Introduction

Ryedale is a predominantly rural area covering some 575 square miles (148,900 hectares) in North Yorkshire. Geographically, the largest district in North Yorkshire, Ryedale comprises a rich agricultural area, as well as including part of the North York Moors National Park. The district population 50,872 (2001 Census) is centred mainly in the twin towns of Malton and Norton, where the administration centre has been established, and the market towns of Pickering, Kirkbymoorside and Helmsley.

The resident population of Ryedale, as measured in the 2001 Census, was 50,872, of which 49 per cent were male and 51 per cent were female.

Some of the Census Statistics have been randomly adjusted to avoid the release of confidential data and may not sum due to rounding.

General Description

Ampleforth Ward

This ward covers the western part of the North York Moors, with the main topographical feature being the Hambleton Hills. The only major employer is Ampleforth Abbey, a Roman Catholic public school. This ward has the highest percentage of properties in the highest council tax band (H) in Ryedale.

Notable buildings within the ward include the Cistercian Abbey of Byland, founded on its current site in 1177 (previously situated at Old Byland, founded 1143), and the Benedictine Monastery of Ampleforth, founded in 1802. The Abbey at Byland was sacked by the Scots after the Battle of Byland in 1322.

The settlements that make up the ward show a typical mixture of Old English (OE) and Old Scandinavian (OScand) derived place names, many of them traceable to the Domesday Book (DB):

- Ampleforth Ford where dock or sorrel grows (OE) (Ampreforde 1086 DB)
- Cawton Farm where calves are reared (OE) (Caluetun 1086 DB)
- Coulton Farmstead where charcoal is made (OE) (Coltune 1086 DB)
- Gilling East Settlement of the family or followers of a man called Gythla or Getla (OE) (Ghellinge 1086 DB)
- Scackleton Valley by a point of land (OE) (Scacheldene 1086 DB)
- Wass Probably 'the fords' (OScand)

Ampleforth Ward comprises the following parishes:

Ampleforth	Coulton	Oldstead
Byland with Wass	Gilling East	Scackleton
Cawton	Grimstone

Indices of Deprivation

The Indices of Deprivation 2004 were published by the Department for Communities & Local Government (DCLG) in May 2004, and revised in June 2004. They measure deprivation at a small area level of Lower Layer Super Output Areas (SOAs). SOAs are a new geography designed for the collection and publication of small area statistics and fit within current Ryedale ward boundaries. The ID 2004 updates the ID 2000 in two key ways, more up-to-date data has been used and new measures have been incorporated as new and improved data sources have become available, therefore ID 2000 and ID 2004 are not comparable.

Index of Multiple Deprivation

The IMD 2004 provides an overall score of deprivation, combining 7 distinct categories of deprivation, known as domains. These domains cover:

Low income	Lack of work	Poor health	Lack of education
Poor housing and access to services	Crime		Poor living environment

There are also two supplementary indices:

Child poverty Older people in poverty

The Indices are available on the DCLG website www.communities.gov.uk by following the links to Research and Statistics/Publications/Creating better communities research and statistics/Indices of Deprivation. Maps of SOAs are available on the Office for National Statistics website www.statistics.gov.uk under Neighbourhood.
