Introduction

Ryedale is a predominantly rural area covering some 575 square miles (148,900 hectares) in North Yorkshire. Geographically, the largest district in North Yorkshire, Ryedale comprises a rich agricultural area, as well as including part of the North York Moors National Park. The district population 50,872 (2001 Census) is centred mainly in the twin towns of Malton and Norton, where the administration centre has been established, and the market towns of Pickering, Kirkbymoorside and Helmsley.

The resident population of Ryedale, as measured in the 2001 Census, was 50,872, of which 49 per cent were male and 51 per cent were female.

General Description

Dales Ward

This ward covers the three North Yorkshire Moors dales of Bransdale, Farndale and Rosedale. The bedrock of the moors was created in the shallow seas of the Jurassic period more than 150 million years ago. The ward has the highest percentage of second homes/holiday homes. The ward also had in 2001, the highest levels of privately rented housing, one of the highest levels of detached dwellings and one of the lowest levels of households without a car.

Rosedale contains the remains of a former Cistercian Nunnery founded before 1158. A monastery was formed at Lastingham by St Cedd in 654 but was re-founded in 1078 following its destruction, probably by the Danes in the late 9th Century. The area has a long history of iron working dating back beyond the Roman Period. Glass working was also present in the 16th Century in Rosedale.

The settlements that make up the ward show a typical mixture of Old English (OE) and Old Scandinavian (OScand) derived place names, many of them traceable to the Domesday Book (DB):

Appleton-le-Moors	Farmstead near the moors where apples grow (OE) (Apeltun 1086 DB)
Fadmoor	Moor of a man called Fad(d)a (OE) (Fademora 1086 DB)
Gillamoore	Moorland belonging to the family or followers of a man called Gythla or Getla (OE) (Gedlingesmore 1086 DB)
Hutton-le-Hole	Farmstead near a ridge or hill spur in the hollow (Hotun 1086 DB)
Lastingham	Homestead of the family or followers of a man called Leasta (OE) (Lestingeham 1086 DB)
Rosedale Abbey	Valley of the horses or of a man called Rossi (OScand) (Russedal c.1140)
Spaunton	Farmstead with a shingled roof (OScand) (Spantun 1086 DB)

Dales Ward comprises the following parishes:

Appleton-le-Moors	Farndale West	Lastingham
Bransdale	Gillamoore	Rosedale East
Fadmoor	Hartoft	Rosedale West
Farndale East	Hutton-le-Hole	Spaunton

Indices of Deprivation

The Indices of Deprivation 2004 were published by the Department for Communities & Local Government (DCLG) in May 2004, and revised in June 2004. They measure deprivation at a small area level of Lower Layer Super Output Areas (SOAs). SOAs are a new geography designed for the collection and publication of small area statistics and fit within current Ryedale ward boundaries. The ID 2004 updates the ID 2000 in two key ways, more up-to-date data has been used and new measures have been incorporated as new and improved data sources have become available, therefore ID 2000 and ID 2004 are not comparable.

Index of Multiple Deprivation

The IMD 2004 provides an overall score of deprivation, combining 7 distinct categories of deprivation, known as domains. These domains cover:

Low income	Lack of work	Poor health	Lack of education
Poor housing and access to services	Crime		Poor living environment

There are also two supplementary indices:
Child poverty Older people in poverty

The Indices are available on the DCLG website www.communities.gov.uk by following the links to Research and Statistics/Publications/Creating better communities research and statistics/Indices of Deprivation. Maps of SOAs are available on the Office for National Statistics website www.statistics.gov.uk under Neighbourhood.
